

2Q 2023 Quarterly Report

Data as of June 30, 2023

AOG Institutional Fund, AOGFX provides diversified exposure to a mix of registered investment companies and less liquid alternative/non-traditional investments through a pooled master-feeder closed-end fund structure. The fund invests in income-producing assets and assets selected for long-term capital appreciation.

Through its investments in non-publicly traded assets, AOGFX provides an opportunity for all investors to access what is generally considered an institutional approach to investing. AOGFX currently features exposure to holdings focused in real estate, private credit, and private equity.

ASSET ALLOCATION

Fund holdings and allocations are subject to change and are not recommendations to buy or sell any security.

The performance data shown represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data presented. Returns are presented before taxes. GROWTH OF $10,000 Fund vs. S&P 500 vs. Traditional 60/40¹

¹ Traditional 60/40 consists of S&P 500 Index (60%) and the Bloomberg US Aggregate Bond Index (40%). The chart illustrates the net performance of a hypothetical $10,000 investment made in the Fund since its first full calendar month of operations and assumes reinvestment of capital gains and distributions. The hypothetical example is for illustrative purposes only and does not represent the returns of any particular investment.

Important Information

Only Shares of the AOGFX Auction Fund ("Auction Fund") are available for purchase by eligible investors and will not be listed on any national securities exchange.

An investor should consider the Fund's investment objectives, risks, and charges and expenses carefully before investing or sending money. This and other important information can be found in the Fund's prospectus. To obtain a prospectus, please 877-600-3573 or visit aogfunds.com. Please read the prospectus carefully before investing.

Investment in the AOG Institutional Fund ("AOGFX Fund") is speculative and involves substantial risks, including the risk of loss of a Shareholder's entire investment. Investors may not have immediate access to invested capital for an indefinite period of time and must have the financial ability, sophistication/experience, and willingness to bear the risks of an illiquid investment. No guarantee or representation is made that a Fund will achieve its investment objective, and investment results may vary substantially from year to year. Additional risks of investing in the Fund are set forth below.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. Diversification does not assure a profit nor protect against loss in a declining market.

The form of investment structure for this product is commonly known as a "master feeder" structure. The AOGFX Auction Fund ("Auction Fund") invests substantially all of its assets in the AOG Institutional Master Fund (the "Master Fund.") The Master Fund and each Feeder Fund is a Delaware statutory trust registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company. The Auction Fund's portfolio will consist Solely of the Master Fund's shares and the Master Fund has the same investment objective and identical investment policies as those of the Auction Fund. Therefore, the Auction Fund's investment results will correspond directly to the investment results of the Master Fund.

You should consider the shares to be an illiquid investment. An investor's participation in the Fund is a long-term commitment, with no certainty of return. No Shareholder or other person holding Shares acquired from a Shareholder has the right to require a Fund to repurchase any Shares. No public market for Shares exists, and none is expected to develop in the future.

In addition to accepting monthly subscriptions directly from investors, beginning approximately 12-18 months following the date the AOGFX Fund commenced operations, the Fund will make its Shares available for secondary transfers on a periodic basis through an online auction platform designed for unlisted securities, including certain closed-end funds and conducted via a designated secondary auction platform provider and its registered broker-dealer. The auction would seek to arrive at a single clearing price (that may be substantially lower than the Fund's last calculated NAV), which would determine whether and to what extent Shares may be sold. The auctions will take place over a monthly period, as determined by the Board of Trustees, and will be restricted solely to Eligible Investors and may be further restricted at certain times, including as required by federal securities laws, rules and regulations. Only market participants that meet the designated provider's eligibility requirements are permitted to submit orders to purchase or sell Shares directly through the platform. Eligible investors must be represented by a registered broker-dealer, investment advisor, or other market participant that satisfies eligibility requirements of the provider to participate in the auction process and will not be permitted to submit orders to the platform directly. Currently, investors that are natural persons are not able to submit orders to purchase Shares directly through the platform. There can be no assurances that Shareholders and other market participants will participate in the auction process or that any attempt to buy and sell Fund shares through the auction process will be successful.

Additional Risk Considerations

Certain risk factors below discuss the risks of investing in Private Markets Investment Funds. As a Feeder Fund, the AOGFX Auction Fund will be exposed to such risks indirectly through its investment in the Master Fund.

Real Estate Securities Risks. The value of companies investing in real estate is affected by, among other things: (i) changes in general economic and market conditions; (ii) changes in the value of real estate properties; (iii) risks related to local economic conditions; overbuilding and increased competition; (iv) increases in property taxes and operating expenses; (v) changes in zoning laws; (vi) casualty and condemnation losses; (vii) variations in rental income, neighborhood values or the appeal of property to tenants; (viii) the availability of financing and (ix) changes in interest rates. Many real estate companies utilize leverage, which increases investment risk and could adversely affect a company's operations and market value in periods of rising interest rates.

REIT Risk. There can be no assurance that the entities in which the Fund invests with the expectation that they will be taxed as a REIT will qualify as a REIT, and such a failure could significantly reduce the Fund's yield on that investment.

Derivatives Risk. The Fund and certain Investment Funds may invest their assets in derivatives, such as futures, forwards and options contracts, which may be illiquid and have the risks of unlimited losses of the underlying holdings due to unanticipated market movements and failure to correctly predict the direction of securities prices, interest rates, and currency exchange rates.

Credit Risk. There is a risk that debt issuers will not make payments, resulting in losses to the Fund, and default perceptions could reduce the value and liquidity of securities and may cause the Fund to incur expenses in seeking recovery of principal or interest on its portfolio holdings. Lower-quality bonds, known as "high yield" or "junk" bonds, present a significant risk for loss of principal and interest and involve an increased risk that the bond's issuer, obligor or guarantor may not be able to make its payments of interest and principal.

Restricted and Illiquid Investments Risk. Particular investments of the Fund or Investment Fund may be difficult to sell at an advantageous price or at all, possibly requiring the Fund or Investment Fund to dispose of other investments at unfavorable times or prices to satisfy its obligations. Investment Funds with principal investment strategies that involve securities of nontraded REITs, companies with smaller market capitalizations, derivatives or securities with substantial market and/or credit risk tend to have the greatest exposure to liquidity risk.

Private Markets Investment Funds. The portfolio companies in which the Private Markets Investment Funds may invest also have no, or relatively short, operating histories, may face substantial competitive pressures from larger companies, and may also rely on a limited number of key personnel. Additionally, there will generally be no readily available market for the Master Fund's investments so valuations are difficult and may not necessarily reflect the value of any such investment's underlying assets. The Adviser may face a conflict of interest in valuing investments that lack a readily accessible market value as the value of the assets held by the Fund will affect the compensation of the Adviser. The 1940 Act provides certain protections to investors and imposes certain restrictions on registered investment companies, none of which will be applicable to the Master Fund's investments in Private Markets Investment Funds.

Competition. The business of investing in private markets opportunities is highly competitive, uncertain, and successfully sourcing investments can be problematic given the high level of investor demand. There are no assurances that the Master Fund will be able to invest fully its assets or that suitable investment opportunities will be available.

Distressed, Special Situations and Venture Investments. Investments in distressed companies and new ventures are subject to greater risk of loss than investments in companies with more stable operations or financial condition.

Multiple Levels of Expense. Shareholders will pay the fees and expenses of a Feeder Fund and will indirectly bear the fees and expenses of the Master Fund and accordingly will indirectly bear the fees, expenses, incentive allocations, and carried interest in the case of some of the Private Markets Investment Funds in which the Master Fund invests.

Cautionary Note Regarding Forward Looking Statements. Certain information presented in this communication may contain "forward looking statements" within the meaning of the federal securities laws, including the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements concerning the Fund's plans, objectives, goals, strategies, distributions and their amounts and timing, distribution declarations, future events, future performance, prospects of its portfolio holdings, or intentions, and other information that is not historical information. Generally, forward looking statements can be identified by terminology such as "believes," "expects," "estimates," "may," "will," "should," "anticipates," "projects," "plans," or "intends," or the negative of such terms or other comparable terminology, or by discussions of strategy. All forward looking statements by the Fund involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties, and other factors, many of which are beyond the control of the Fund, which may cause the Fund's actual results to be materially different from those expressed or implied by such statements. These risks include, but are not limited to, equity securities risk, corporate bonds risk, credit risk, interest rate risk, leverage and borrowing risk, additional risks of certain securities in which the Fund invests, market discount from NAV, distribution policy risk, management risk, risks related to the negative impacts from the continued spread of COVID-19 on the economy and the broader financial markets, and other risks discussed in the Fund's filings with the SEC. All such subsequent forward looking statements, whether written or oral, by the Fund or on its behalf, are also expressly qualified by these cautionary statements. Investors should carefully consider the risks, uncertainties, and other factors, together with all of the other information included in the Fund's filings with the SEC, and similar information. The Fund may also make additional forward looking statements from time to time. All forward looking statements apply only as of the date made. The Fund undertakes no obligation to publicly update or revise forward looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise. Thus you should not place undue reliance on forward looking statements.

The Standard and Poor's 500, or simply the S&P 500, is a stock market index tracking the performance of 500 large companies listed on stock exchanges in the United States. It is one of the most commonly followed equity indices.

Standard deviation is the statistical measure of market volatility, measuring how widely prices are dispersed from the average price. If prices trade in a narrow trading range, the standard deviation will return a low value that indicates low volatility.

The Sharpe Ratio measures the risk-adjusted return of a security. This metric analyzes the return on a security in comparison to the amount of volatility (or risk) of that security. The historical sharpe ratio annualizes prior monthly returns to calculate the return measure and uses the annualized standard deviation of monthly returns as the risk measure.

The Bloomberg US Aggregate Bond Index, is a broad base, market capitalization-weighted bond market index representing intermediate term investment grade bonds traded in the United States

The AOG Institutional Auction Fund is distributed by UMB Distribution Services, LLC ("UMBDS"). UMBDS is not affiliated with the secondary auction provider and its registered broker-dealer, the AOG Institutional Master Fund, or AOG Wealth Management.

On May 17, 2023, the Board of Trustees of the Auction Fund approved the change of the Fund's name from the "AOG Institutional Diversified Fund" to the "AOG Institutional Fund".
